The primary bathroom is both connected and discreet to the primary suite. Positioned on an elevated tiled platform (for plumbing purposes) it is reached by a solid timber step created by repurposing the earlier mentioned timber posts from the loft. The wispy gray marble surfaces that wrap the floor and walls create an intimate boundary to the raw loft space beyond. These marble slabs are carefully coursed to create niches and shelves for the tub and shower. The custom white Corian vanity sink and freestanding tub celebrate their object quality in the space. Shower and toilet areas are enclosed with glass panels.
